Introduction:

The Florida Institute of Ultrasound, Inc. (FIU) strives to provide a safe and secure campus environment in an effort to promote an ideal learning environment for all students. FIU has developed policies and procedures that are geared to ensure that reasonable measures are taken to protect the campus. FIU makes every effort to provide a safe, crime-free campus for our student's, however, in the event a crime does occur, we want you to be aware of the procedure you should follow.

If you are personally involved in or witness a crime in progress in our immediate building or surrounding parking areas, you should call 911 from the nearest available telephone as soon as possible. You should also immediately report the crime to the Program Director or the most senior official available in his absence.

If you are the victim of a sexual assault which involves a staff member of the Florida Institute of Ultrasound, Inc., you should report the assault to the Administrative Director/Title IX Coordinator. If the assault involves the Administrative Director, the incident should be reported to the Program Director. In any case, you should feel free to notify local law enforcement of the assault. All documents are secured in the Financial Aid Office. This report is updated annually prior to October 1st.

Timely Warnings:

In the event a situation arises on FIU's campus, that in the judgment of FIU's staff constitutes an ongoing, immediate or continuing threat, a "timely warning" will be issued. The warning will be issued through email and Facebook to students and staff. Anyone with information warranting a timely warning should report the circumstances to FIU staff.

Students and staff are encouraged to provide updated phone numbers and email addresses to the FIU Office Manager (info@fupensacola.edu or (850) 478-7611, ext. 11.

Emergency Notification:

In the event of a significant emergency or dangerous situation involving an immediate threat to the health or safety of students or employees occurring on campus, FIU will without delay and taking into account the safety of the community, determine the content of the notification message and initiate the emergency notification through email and Facebook. If in the professional judgment of responsible authorities, there will be a compromise in efforts to assist victims, contain, respond to or otherwise mitigate the emergency, the following procedures will be implemented.

- Staff will initiate the response to staff and students.
- In the event that the emergency or dangerous situation will affect the surrounding areas of the campus, staff will determine the content of the message to be communicated to the public and the means by which to do so, e.g. radio/TV, local Emergency Operations Center, etc.

Emergency Evacuation:

Evacuation is the movement of campus occupants from a dangerous or potentially dangerous location to a safe location. There are two types of evacuation; fire evacuation and non-fire evacuation;

Fire evacuation:

- Evacuation is mandatory when a fire alarm is activated.
- Follow staff instructions given.
- Assist people with disabilities if possible.
- Do not attempt to reenter the facility unless directed to do so.

Non-fire evacuation

- A non-fire evacuation will be initiated by campus staff.
- Follow staff instructions if given.
- Assist people with disabilities if possible.
- Do not attempt to reenter the facility unless directed to do so.

Emergency Lockdown:

Emergency Lockdown is used to dramatically and rapidly enhance the level of security of the campus. By locking all exterior, interior and classroom doors, staff can make it more difficult for dangerous person(s) in the vicinity of the campus and in the campus to gain access to staff and students;

- Lock or barricade doors of classroom and internal student areas of congregation.
- Close blinds, turn off lights.
- Remain quiet and out of sight.
- If gunshots are heard, lay on the floor and try to use available resources for additional cover and concealment.
- If you are outside when a lockdown is declared, seek shelter away from danger.
- If a fire alarm is activated during a lockdown, proceed with extreme caution.
- Do not open the door for people claiming to be public safety personnel unless you have an opportunity to view photo identification or are instructed to do so by a staff member whom you recognize.

External Lockdown:

External Lockdown creates a physical layer of security between the internal and external dimensions of the campus. This lockdown allows staff and students to continue activities while maintaining access control to the campus and remain in an elevated state of security.

- Remain in the classroom.
- Follow faculty and staff instructions.
- Remain attentive to any change in status.

Shelter in Place:

Shelter in place procedures are traditionally utilized when:

1. A tornado has been spotted.
2. There has been a chemical or biological incident outside of, but in proximity to a campus and available information indicates that there is no adequate time to evacuate building occupants to a safe location before the dangerous contaminants reach the facility.

- Follow staff and faculty instructions.
- Assist people with disabilities if possible.
- If you are outside when a shelter in place is declared, immediately seek an interior room or
- hallway with no windows.
- Close windows and doors – do not lock doors.
- Remain in shelter until an all clear is given.

Testing Emergency Procedures:

The School will have an annual unannounced testing of emergency procedures and will document the date and time. The results will be kept in the Office Manager's office and made available to students upon request.

Annual Disclosure of Crime Statistics:

Campus crimes, arrests and referral statistics include those reported to the Escambia County Sheriff's Department. It is the policy of FIU that all criminal acts should be reported to the Escambia County Sheriff's Department. The immediate reporting of any crime, especially sexual assaults, assists in the preservation of evidence necessary to convict a person involved in such criminal activity.

Confidential Reporting Procedures

If you are a victim of a crime and you do not wish to reveal your identity and you do not wish to pursue criminal action within the criminal justice system or disciplinary action with FIU, you may file a confidential report with the Title IX Coordinator (Gregory Davis, Administrative Director). The purpose of the confidential report is to comply with an individual's wish to keep the identity of the individual confidential while taking steps to ensure the safety of the individual and others. Reports filed in this manner are counted and disclosed in the annual crimes statistics.

FIU does not employ counselors on staff whose official responsibility includes psychological or pastoral counseling. Information involving potential danger to individuals or others reported directly to campus officials by persons requesting confidentiality may be reported to law enforcement authorities by FIU.

Campus Police:

FIU does not have a police department. The relevant police force for FIU is the Escambia County Sheriff's Department (850) 436-9620.

FIU staff documents security and safety incidents and forward the information to the Administrative Director. FIU offers programs dealing with security procedures and practices and encouraging the campus community to look out for themselves and one another. Students receive the training in the classroom the first week of school and upon their return back to campus after their clinical externship. Employees will receive training during a designated staff meeting on an annual basis and is included in materials during new employee orientation.

Students may be subject to disciplinary action for on or off campus conduct. Disciplinary action by the School is not a criminal process, and the double jeopardy doctrine does not apply to student discipline. FIU may elect to process a charge of misconduct even if the student may be or has been charged with a criminal offense arising out the same act. FIU will not delay its processing of a matter because of pending criminal charges, a trial or an appeal.

Additionally, when a complainant does not consent to the disclosure of his or her name or other identifiable information to the alleged perpetrator, the School’s ability to respond to the complaint may be limited.

Safe and Positive Options for Bystander Intervention:

Below is a list of bystander intervention strategies adapted from Stanford University’s Office of Sexual Assault & Relationship Abuse as listed from Florida Institute of Ultrasound, Inc.’s Combined Annual Security and Fire Safety Report. If you or someone else is in immediate danger, dial 911. This could be when a person is yelling at or being physically abusive towards another and it is not safe for you to interrupt.

- Watch out for your friends and fellow students/employees. If you see someone who looks like they could be in trouble or need help, ask if they are ok.
- Confront people who seclude, hit on, try to make out with, or have sex with people who are incapacitated.
- Speak up when someone discusses plans to take sexual advantage of another person.
- Believe someone who discloses sexual assault, abusive behavior, or experience with stalking.
- Refer people to on or off campus resources listed in this document for support in health, counseling, or with legal assistance.

Risk Reduction:

With no intent to victim-blame and recognizing that only rapists are responsible for rape, the following are some strategies to reduce one’s risk of sexual assault or harassment (taken from Rape, Abuse, & Incest National Network, www.rainn.org):

1. Be aware of your surroundings. Knowing where you are and who is around you may help you to find a way to get out of a bad situation.

2. Try to avoid isolated areas. It is more difficult to get help if no one is around.
3. Walk with purpose. Even if you don't know where you are going, act like you do.
4. Trust your instincts. If a situation or location feels unsafe or uncomfortable, it probably isn't the best place to be.
5. Try not to load yourself down with packages or bags as this can make you appear more vulnerable.
6. Make sure your cell phone is with you and charged and that you have cash money.
7. Don't allow yourself to be isolated with someone you don't trust or someone you don't know.
8. Avoid putting music headphones in both ears so that you can be more aware of your surroundings, especially if you are walking alone.
9. When you go to a social gathering, go with a group of friends. Arrive together, check in with each other throughout the evening, and leave together. Knowing where you are and who is around you may help you to find a way out of a bad situation.
10. Trust your instincts. If you feel unsafe in any situation, go with your gut. If you see something suspicious, contact law enforcement immediately (local authorities can be reached by calling 911 in most areas of the U.S.).
11. Don't leave your drink unattended while talking, dancing, using the restroom, or making a phone call. If you've left your drink alone, just get a new one.
12. Don't accept drinks from people you don't know or trust. If you choose to accept a drink, go with the person to the bar to order it, watch it being poured, and carry it yourself. At parties, don't drink from the punch bowls or other large, common open containers.
13. Watch out for your friends, and vice versa. If a friend seems out of it, is way too intoxicated for the amount of alcohol they've had, or is acting out of character, get him or her to a safe place immediately.
14. If you suspect you or a friend has been drugged, contact law enforcement immediately (local authorities can be reached by calling 911 in most areas of the U.S.). Be explicit with doctors so they can give you the correct tests (you will need a urine test and possibly others).
15. If you need to get out of an uncomfortable or scary situation here are some things that you can try:
 - a. Remember that being in this situation is not your fault. You did not do anything wrong; it is the person who is making you uncomfortable that is to blame.

b. Be true to yourself. Don't feel obligated to do anything you don't want to do. "I don't want to" is always a good enough reason. Do what feels right to you and what you are comfortable with.

c. Have a code word with your friends or family so that if you don't feel comfortable you can call them and communicate your discomfort without the person you are with knowing. Your friends or family can then come to get you or make up an excuse for you to leave.

d. Lie. If you don't want to hurt the person's feelings it is better to lie and make up a reason to leave than to stay and be uncomfortable, scared, or worse. Some excuses you could use are: needing to take care of a friend or family member, not feeling well, having somewhere else that you need to be, etc.

16. Try to think of an escape route. How would you try to get out of the room? Where are the doors? Windows? Are there people around who might be able to help you? Is there an emergency phone nearby?

17. If you and/or the other person have been drinking, you can say that you would rather wait until you both have your full judgment before doing anything you may regret later.

Court Issued Protective Orders:

Faculty, staff and students who are victims of domestic violence, dating violence or stalking are encouraged to apply for emergency protective orders through the court having jurisdiction. This is to provide additional legal support to enable law enforcement personnel to take action if a violation occurs. Copies of protective orders should be provided to the Administrative Director. When appropriate, the school may post the name and picture of the perpetrator at the front desk.

Reporting Domestic Violence, Dating Violence, Sexual Assault and Stalking:

Incidents of domestic violence, dating violence and stalking should be reported to the local police department and/or Title IX Coordinator if a student is involved or the Administrative Director if it involves an employee. If a student or employee reports an incident to the Title IX Coordinator or a FIU administrator and chooses to report the incident, the school will help the student or employee report the incident to the proper law enforcement authority. If the Complainant/Victim does not wish to pursue any remedy under this policy and/or requests that his or her complaint remain confidential, the school will consider the Complainant's request. However, the school is required to investigate and take reasonable action in response to information received as part of the investigation. Whether the student or employee reports it or not to the proper law enforcement authorities, the School with the help of our HR provider will investigate the incident.

The importance of preserving evidence as may be necessary to the proof of criminal domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, or stalking, or in obtaining a protection order. Victims of sexual assault should not bathe, douche, smoke, change clothing or clean the bed/linen/area where they were assaulted in an effort to preserve the evidence.

Regardless of whether a victim elects to pursue a criminal complaint or whether the offense is alleged to have occurred on or off campus, the School will assist victims of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking and will provide each victim with a written explanation of their rights and options. The following are a list of Victim's Rights, as determined by the State of Florida.

Further, the Florida Institute of Ultrasound, Inc. complies with Florida law in recognizing Injunctions of Protection Against Domestic Violence, Injunctions of Protection Against Dating Violence, Injunctions of Protection Against Repeat Violence, Injunctions of Protection Against Sexual Violence, and Injunctions of Protection Against Stalking. These injunctions are commonly referred to as restraining orders or no contact orders.

Response to Domestic Violence, Dating Violence, Sexual Assault and Stalking:

Upon notice of a school related sexual assault, or cases of domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking, the School Title IX Coordinator or designee and the School's HR provider will make arrangements to investigate promptly and equitably. If after a thorough investigation, it is determined that discrimination or harassment has occurred, the school will move forward in the disciplinary process.

The School Title IX Coordinator or designee and the School's HR provider will the conduct the disciplinary proceedings. The officials who conduct the proceedings will participate in an annual training on the issues related to dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault, and stalking and on how to conduct an investigation and hearing process that protects the safety of victims and promotes accountability. The proceedings relating to sexual misconduct including acts of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence and stalking provide that the complainant and the respondent are entitled to the same opportunities to have others present during a disciplinary hearing. Both the complainant and respondent have the same opportunity to be accompanied to any related meeting or disciplinary hearing by an advisor of their choice. Both the complainant and respondent will be simultaneously informed in writing of the outcome of any school conduct proceedings regarding sexual misconduct. The School conduct system uses a preponderance of evidence standard in disciplinary hearings. Based on the outcome of the hearing, educational and disciplinary sanctions may be imposed.

Both the accuser and accused will be simultaneously notified of the results of the disciplinary proceedings. The accuser and accused will be simultaneously notified in writing of the School's appeal process. An appeal may be granted on a case by case basis if new information is available. If an appeal is granted, the results will be simultaneously notified in writing to the accuser and accused. Once the proceedings are completed, the accuser and accused will be simultaneously notified in writing of the School's final results.

If the complainant does not wish to make a report to the police or to FIU officials, it is still recommended that the complainant be encouraged to seek professional medical advise and counseling. (Please note that all healthcare providers are legally required to report all cases of suspected sexual or physical assault to law enforcement.)

FIU does not offer students transportation, housing or employment. It is important that all our students feel safe during school hours. The School will make every effort to accommodate and provide protective measures to victims upon request. The School will honor the victims right to confidentiality.

The School or the School's HR provider will provide a written notification to students and employees about existing counseling, health, mental health, victim advocacy, legal assistance, visa and immigration assistance, student financial aid and other services available for victims, both within the institution and in the community.
